

I CAN'T DRAW

JULY 26, 2025

9:00 AM TO 3:00 PM

$275 PER PERSON (MATERIALS INCLUDED)

TUTOR: ALI GILLETT.

I've always been able to draw, but I never quite knew how I got there, and I certainly didn't know how to critique and correct works in order to make them better. It was a constant 'stab in the dark and hope for the best' kind of attitude, which has its place, but it meant that my successes were surprises, which isn't what I want to build my creative practice on.

Enter the glorious world of Drawing Analysis: a set of tools that will allow you to create freely, correct kindly, and draw/ paint whatever your beautiful imagination wants to!

'I Can't Draw' is a one day workshop that will teach how to analyse the image you want to create and turn it into a series of known, and easy to understand shapes, lines and angles. It will show you the relationships between the objects in your image and how to correct them if they're wrong.

Most importantly, you will learn how to start with the wrong mark and perfect your drawing from there.

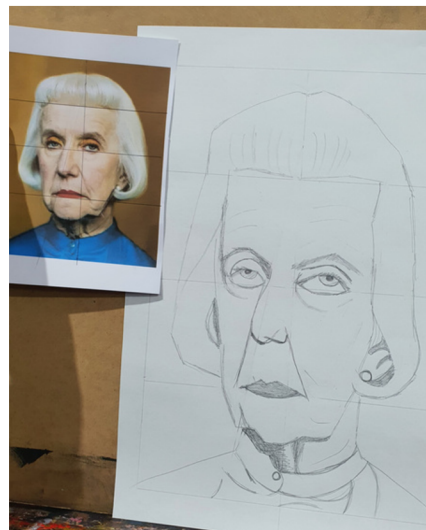

There is a bit of spatial maths involved, I'm not going to lie, but once you've nailed this skill set your drawing world will be open and free forever!

The day will begin with an in-depth look at the tools and techniques of drawing, followed by a few rounds of sketching, critiquing and correcting. After lunch we will take those same tools to a still life set-up and learn how to shift from a 2D to a 3D setting.

Trust me, if you can draw a triangle and hold a pencil, you have all the skills you'll need to become a truly excellent artist!

ALL MATERIALS ARE PROVIDED.

A WORKBOOK WILL BE SENT TO YOUR EMAIL FOR PRINTING THE WEEK OF THE WORKSHOP.
